

Republicans Adopt State Platform

Condemns Ku Klux Klan or Any Other Organization Seeking To Interfere With Constitutional Guarantees of Liberty—Pledges Enforcement of All Laws—National Administration Endorsed—Smith Administration Charged With Inefficiency, Insincerity, Extravagance, Misrepresentation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Convention Hall, Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Denouncing the Ku Klux Klan by name, pledging the enforcement of all laws but not specifically mentioning the prohibition statute, praising the Republican administration at Washington and promising enthusiastic support for the Coolidge-Dawes ticket, and charging the Democratic state administration under Governor Alfred E. Smith with inefficiency, insincerity, extravagance and misrepresentation of facts, the Republican state platform was adopted here today.

The Ku Klux Klan plank was adopted by the resolutions committee early this morning after a long, bitter fight. The vote to include the plank in the platform was 25 to 24. Former Governor Horace White of Syracuse, and Representative Thaddeus Sweet of Oswego, led the fight against the plank. Representative Ogden L. Mills of New York, chairman of the committee, and Speaker H. Edmund Machold of Watertown, were the leaders in the fight for the plank.

The Klan plank, under the sub-head of "Fundamental Principles," follows:

"The Constitutional guarantee of civil, political and religious liberty to every citizen is the very foundation of our national policy and our national ideal. This guarantee cannot be denied or impaired without being false to American tradition, to American ideals and to the very soul and spirit of the nation. The Republican party now, as from the beginning of its existence, recognizes neither color, nor creed, nor race as a test of good citizenship or as a disqualification for any form of national service or national honor. It could not do this and remain either Republican or American.

"We condemn and oppose any organization, whether it be called Ku Klux Klan or by any other name, that seeks directly or indirectly to weaken this fundamental American doctrine either in letter or spirit. Moreover, we condemn any candidate or party that endeavors to make political capital out of such an issue, and, while posing as its champion, betrays the cause of liberty by a direct appeal to racial and religious groups.

Declaring the Republican party always has been the "friend of the labor," the platform pledges the party to work for many of the laws urged by the State Federation of Labor, including a forty-eight hour week for women in this state.

The plank, which the drys claim pledges the party to work for the enactment of a state-wide prohibition enforcement law, follows:

"We reaffirm the declaration of the Republican party in its national platform in favor of the enforcement of the Constitution and the laws, and pledge ourselves to the enactment of such legislation as will make this declaration effective."

A plank declaring that if a deeper waterway connecting Lake Erie and the Atlantic is to be constructed it should be an "all-American" waterway across the state of New York was adopted by the resolutions committee after it had been once defeated.

Other high spots in the platform follow:

The National Administration.

"The Republican party is entitled to the confidence of the nation. It has administered the public affairs with businesslike efficiency and economy; reduced expenditure and lessened the tax burden; restored the national credit and diminished the national debt; under its historic policy of protection labor has found employment and business prosperity; agricultural interests have received unprecedented care and consideration and are on the road to recovery; our railroads are once more handling adequately the huge business of our growing country under a law which, though not perfect, has bridged the gap between the failure of government operation and the enactment of a more perfect and permanent statute. Abroad our position is understood and respected; America is independent, impartial and peace-loving, stands ready at all times to help and cooperate, but refuses to bind herself in advance or to commit her power and influence to unknown contingencies.

"We wholeheartedly endorse the nominations of Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes, and pledge them the enthusiastic support of united Republicans of the Empire State."

The State Administration.

"We charge the Democratic party in the state of New York with inefficiency, insincerity and laxity in the conduct of the state government. For the last two years their aim has been not to solve problems but to preserve issues.

"Tammam Hall, with all that it implies, has extended its grasp over the entire state. Its paralyzing hand has been laid upon state government and state business.

"We denounce the Democratic state administration for extravagance and for misrepresentation of the facts.

"In two years of the present administration there have been:

"Increased appropriation by more than $42,000,000 over the appropriations of the preceding two years, without any new governmental activities to justify such increase;

"Increased the annual public payroll by more than $5,000,000;

"So administered the important department of public works as to reflect seriously on the honesty of the state government, and compelled the wholesale resignation of officials under charges of corruption;

"Removed faithful public officials on trumped up charges, to make place for henchmen of their own;

"Misrepresented the facts in their statements regarding consolidation of departments, budget and state finances, in order to mislead the people of the state.

The Executive Budget.

"The Democrats have deliberately confused this question. We unqualifiedly assert that there is no need of a constitutional amendment. We pledge ourselves to establish in Albany next year the exact duplicate of the budget system so successfully administered by the Republican administration at Washington and as provided for in legislation passed by the Republican Assembly in 1923 and defeated by the Democratic Senate.

Consolidation of Departments.

"We favor the repassage by the Legislature of two constitutional amendments providing for the consolidation of the state departments in the form initiated by the Republican Assembly.

Taxation.

"In New York state, as elsewhere, the people are bearing a tax burden which is not only unnecessarily heavy but is inequitably distributed.

"We pledge ourselves not only to tax reduction but to tax reform with a view to a more equitable distribution of the burden.

Agriculture.

"A prosperous and contented agricultural population is essential to the welfare and prosperity of the state. There must not be two standards of living, and the economic return on the farm must equal that of other industries. To this end the Republican party pledges itself to do all in its power to assist those engaged in agricultural pursuits to market the fruits of their labor as to give them an adequate return for their labor and investment.

Social Welfare.

"The purpose of welfare legislation is to safeguard and protect the future citizens of the nation. Unless we can produce wholesome and happy children, material prosperity, industrial development and natural wealth, will all be futile. In conformity with this spirit and following Republican policy and tradition we favor the ratification by the legislature of the state of New York of the twentieth amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by a Republican congress for the prevention of child labor.

New York City Rapid Transit.

"Transit conditions in New York are deplorable and constitute an outrageous failure on government. With the exception of two short extensions not a single new subway has been built beyond those secured by 1913 contracts. Mayor John F. Hylan and his associates are alone to blame.

Waterpower.

"The development and economical distribution of electrical power is of transcendent importance to the progress of industry, the reduction of the burdens of labor and extension of comfort in our homes and upon our farms. The large waterpower resources within the state and upon our boundaries place us in fortunate position in these developments. Our problem is so to direct these developments as to give the maximum power at the least cost and thus to bring state."

Institute of Teachers in Session Here

The Rev. Henry Smith Tells Teachers of the Necessity of Reading the Bible—Professor Ward Tells of the Needs of the Rural School—Professor Hutchings Talks on the World Court.

There was an unusually large attendance of teachers at the opening session of the Teachers' Institute being conducted at the Kingston High School today and tomorrow, under the State Department of Education.

Following the opening exercises, with Mrs. Ella D. Gillette accompanying the singing at the piano, the Rev. Henry Smith of the American Bible Society, addressed the assembled teachers on the subject of the need of reading the Bible by the coming generations. That there is need, in order that our coming generation may know even the title of Bible stories on subjects, was made very plain by answers to questions given to students in actual schools, as related by Mr. Smith. He gave some pupils ideas of the Ten Commandments that were astounding. A graduating class of 200 at a Philadelphia school was asked to tell the story of The Prodigal Son, and not one could do so. Judge Craue of the Juvenile Court has stated that 90 per cent of the delinquents today come from non-Christian homes, or school were the Bible is not read.

Judge T. C. Crane, himself a member of Tammam Hall, has prepared a resolution, which if necessary, he proposes to offer to our Congress and Assembly, and even our national government. The resolution asks that the reading of the Bible, without comment, be compulsory in our public schools.

The American Bible Society has taken up this matter and is asking educators to do what they can to bring about the reading of the Bible in our schools right now. Already more than half of the district superintendents in our county have given their consent; and now teachers are being asked if they will do the reading. The Bible Society will give Bibles free for all such reading.

Today 1,000 families in the city of Kingston have no Bibles and 5,000 families in the county are without Bibles; 6,000 school children are without religious education.

Superintendent Gillette acting as master of ceremonies expressed his regret that Principal von den Berg of the New Paltz Normal School was unable to be present and introduced his representative, Mr. Ward of the New Paltz faculty, who spoke very acceptably on some of the subjects that Mr. van den Berg had hoped to touch upon.

Mr. Ward called the rural school the sick man of our Educational system of today, in that it still lacks equipment, money; the right sort of administrative system. The speaker considered briefly but practically and clearly, four angles of the situation: Taxation or the money problem; administration; the social and living problem of the teacher as well as the community; the professional improvement of the teacher. He advocated taxation on the basis of property, with distribution according to the number of pupils taught. In showing the present discrepancies, Mr. Ward cited the township of Hempstead, where the school taxes amount to some $4,000,000 with a comparatively small number of pupils attending schools there. The speaker thought our present administrative unit too small. No matter how conscientious a man or a trustee might be, he is too well-known in his own community to work to the same advantage that a town or township board of education of from five to eight or more men could work. In that case no one man would be too well known in any part of the section to have overbalancing power or influence. It would eliminate personality.

As to the betterment of the teachers' social or living conditions, which today are a serious problem, owing to the fact that in most communities such families as would be congenial do no longer have to take boarders, Mr. Ward described how the maximum benefits to our people.

"The immediate problem of the state is to secure the development of its power possibilities as rapidly as possible. These power possibilities lie almost wholly on the Niagara and St. Lawrence rivers and therefore present complications with our Federal government which must be solved before any further action can be taken.

"We condemn the present Democratic administration for its failure to prosecute the case begun by the preceding Republican administration to determine the question of ownership of our power on our streams, which case was pending in the Supreme court of the United States when this administration was introduced into office. Until this question is settled and the status of our state determined it is folly to talk of the development of power by the state, because our other possibilities are negligible.

"We pledge the Republican party to do everything possible to speedily determine this question with the Federal government and to set up a commission of independent men capable and free of politics, to study the entire subject with a view to determining the best possible plan to carry on these developments in the interests of all the people of our state."

Democrats Meet To Name Their State Ticket

Keynote Speaker of Democratic State Convention Says Coolidge Is to Blame for Republican Administration's "Galaxy of Crime and Corruption"—Preparation of Platform Principal Work of Convention.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

The Arena, Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 25.—From the ring in which many historicistic battles have been fought, Francis E. Cullen of Oswego and Watertown opened the fight for control of New York state shortly after one o'clock today.

As temporary chairman and keynote speaker of the New York State Democratic convention he struck the note on which Governor Alfred E. Smith and his entire ticket will base their fight.

Laying the blame for what he termed the Republican administration's "galaxy of crime and corruption" squarely on the shoulders of President Coolidge, he claimed a startling contrast has been shown by Smith's administration of New York state.

When the Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Betts, pastor of the First Universalist Church of Syracuse opened the convention with a prayer, a noisy, cheering horde of Tammany and upstate Democrats packed the galleries.

Cullen Sounds Keynote.

Responsibility for all veterans' bureau and other scandals of the Republican administration was laid squarely on the shoulders of President Coolidge by Francis E. Cullen of Oswego and Watertown in his keynote address as temporary chairman.

Mr. Cullen flayed the administration of the Republican party since 1921, denounced the Ku Klux Klan in vigorous terms and lauded the records made by President Wilson and Governor Alfred E. Smith.

He attacked the Fordney-McCumber tariff as adding to the high cost of living to make inordinate profits for favored industries.

The Republican party was charged by him with failing to adopt any sort of a definite foreign policy either constructive or otherwise.

The record of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, and of every member of the state ticket which is to be renominated by the convention were pointed to as being in startling contrast to the Republican alleged maladministration.

Short Convention Probable.

With the leaders determined to renominate Governor Alfred E. Smith and the other members of the state ticket without delay, it appeared certain that the convention will be one of the shortest in the party's history.

The request of Mayor John F. Hylan of New York that a plank be put into the platform advocating amendment of the Constitution to give several cities of the state relief from their pressing financial limitations today is reported as being favorably considered.

It has the support of leaders from New York city, which would get transit relief from the amendment, from Syracuse which would get $2,500,000 badly needed for school building, and from Rochester which would get the financial relief needed to carry on important civic improvements.

Peter F. Brady of the state Federation of Labor, announced he is confident favorable action will be taken on the request of organized labor that many measures favorable to the workers be included in the platform.

The labor planks include:

A forty-eight hour week; minimum wage law for women and children; state insurance legislation; modification of the Volstead act and repeal of the motion picture censorship.

Orville S. Poland, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, is on hand with a "bone dry" law enforcement program.

Lieutenant Governor Linn has voiced publicly the demand that most of the leaders are making in silence, that the Klan be denounced vigorously by name.

Miss Elizabeth Colbert of Albany will submit to the platform committee on behalf of the Democratic Women's State Committee, with the request that the election laws be changed to permit the women proportional representation on the state committee.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will go before the committee as the representative of thirty women's organizations, and request a plank favoring the ratification of the Child Labor Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Senator Walker announced that the platform will reiterate the policies voiced by Governor Smith in his last campaign and in his fight for a Democratic Assembly last year. The principal points will be a program for water power development, further reorganization of state bureaus and departments and conservation of the state's natural resources.

Business Certificate Filed.

Solach C. Terwilliger and Harry Terwilliger have filed a certificate with the Ulster county clerk that they are conducting a general plumbing and hardware business at Kerhonkson under the name and style, "Terwilliger Brothers."

Col. Theodore Roosevelt Named On First Ballot For Governor

Marlborough Victim May Die

Sam Macino, Mysteriously Shot at Marlborough in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh—Two Men in Ulster County Jail Awaiting Investigation.

Angelo Ginardi of Firthcliffe is in the Ulster county jail after having been taken into custody by the police at the Rondout creek bridge Wednesday afternoon as he was driving into the city in his Hudson car. Peter Galo who is thought to be one of two men who jumped from the Ginardi car near Marlborough after a shooting match, is also in the jail. Galo was picked up by State Trooper Alsford who hastened to the scene of the shooting from Highland where he was picked up by Deputy Sheriff Ralph E. Lyons. Galo when taken in custody was hiding behind a fence.

Sam Macino is in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, with three bullet wounds in his body and probably will die. At the hospital, where he is being cared for by Dr. Charles Townsend of Newburgh, it was reported that Macino refused to talk; he said that he did not know who shot him or who was in the car. His condition is reported as serious and late reports were that he was unconscious. He has a wound in his head near the eye, one in the shoulder and another wound in his back which gives evidence of having been inflicted as he lay on the road after the first shots had been fired.

Just what happened the authorities have been unable to learn but indications are that the affair is the result of a bootlegger's dispute.

Macino was shot about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the state road north of Marlborough. The authorities were notified of the affair and the local police were notified to look out for a Hudson speedster which was headed this way and which contained one man. Two other occupants of the car were said to have left the car after the shooting and disappeared. The police stationed men at the Rondout creek bridge and stopped the Hudson of Ginardi as he was entering the city. He was brought to the jail and held by the sheriff pending investigation. He claimed to have been on his way to Kingston to pay a bill at a local automobile place. He claims to know nothing of the shooting, but his arrival in Kingston was about a half hour after the shooting occurred and he was held.

Trooper Alsford, who went to Marlborough, cared for the injured man and saw that he was taken to a hospital and then started a search for the two men it was said had disappeared. Galo was picked up and brought to the county jail and held. The man who was shot is said to be a wealthy Italian residing in the state of New Jersey. A Cadillac car owned by him bearing New Jersey license number 23550 is in a Newburgh garage for repairs.

From what could be learned it appears that the four men met in Newburgh and left in a Hudson car headed north. Their destination was Poughkeepsie. Near Marlborough the car was stopped and Macino and Galo and the third member of the party got out of the car. Ginardi remained in the car, according to information. Macino was shot and later found bleeding along the road. The car was driven rapidly north and the two other men disappeared in a vineyard along the road.

According to the Troopers, Galo denies shooting but said that Ginardi did the shooting. Both men were searched for a gun but none was found. A search of the vicinity of the shooting, however, revealed a revolver some 300 feet north of the scene where it had evidently been thrown behind the fence. The gun was turned over to Sheriff Wells.

Ginardi and Galo both claim that they did not know who their companions were.

Cards on the person of Ginardi identified him and showed that he was the proprietor of the Pleasant Rest Inn at Firthcliffe, Orange county.

Sergeant Cunningham and a force of Troopers are continuing the investigation in an endeavor to learn who did the shooting and to determine the cause. Sheriff Leonard of Orange county was in Kingston and conferred with Sheriff Wells Wednesday evening.

21-YEAR-OLD BOYS ARRESTED FOR ENDANGERING MORALS

Edward Palmatier and Earl Veach, each aged 21 years old, were brought to the Ulster county jail Wednesday evening to be held to await a hearing later before Justice of the Peace Harold Lent at Highland, on a charge of violating the penal law in endangering the morals of two young girls. It is alleged the defendants had gone away with the girls on Saturday last and were with them when taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Ralph E. Lyons of the town of Lloyd.

Dixon Got Five Days.

Edward Dixon was picked up drunk on lower Broadway Wednesday evening by Special Officer Mesinger. This morning Judge Robert G. Groves in police court committed him for five days in the county jail.

Republican State Convention Selects Assistant Secretary of War to Head State Ticket and Takes Recess for Three Hours.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Convention Hall, Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the United States navy, was nominated governor by the Republican state convention here today on the first ballot.

Roosevelt was victorious over four other candidates—Colonel William Hayward of New York, Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Nyack, District Attorney Guy B. Moore of Buffalo and Congressman Hamilton Fish of Putnam.

With scores of the up-state delegates in a fighting mood because of a plank in the platform denouncing the Ku Klux Klan by name, the Republican state convention opened at 10:37 o'clock standard time, this morning.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Alphonse A. Nobile, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church, Rochester.

Mutterings against the Klan plank were heard among many of the county delegations as the convention got under way for what is expected to be the final session. Under a previous resolution, however, the delegates were barred from discussing the platform from the floor of the convention.

Close Vote On Klan Plank.

Delegates from the rural sections openly charged that the Klan plank was incorporated in the platform to placate certain delegates from the larger cities. They also claim that if the rules of the Assembly had been strictly enforced at last night's meeting of the resolutions committee, when the Klan plank was adopted by a vote of 25 to 24, it would have been defeated.

Representative Ogden L. Mills of New York, chairman of the resolutions committee and Speaker H. Edmund Machold of Watertown, led the fight for the Klan plank. The opposition was in charge of Former Governor Horace White of Syracuse, and Representative Thaddeus Sweet of Oswego.

"Bone Dry" Delegates Dissatisfied.

Many of the "bone dry" delegates expressed disgust because the platform makers did not specifically pledge the party to work for the enactment of a state-wide prohibition enforcement law. They claimed such a plank would have made countless votes in the rural communities for the ticket.

The platform was adopted following its reading by Congressman Mills. It was not unanimous however, as several delegates in the rear yelled "no."

Hayward's Name Presented.

The name of Colonel William Hayward of New York, was the first placed in nomination for governor. The nominating speech was made by George Meadlie of New York.

Erle Names Moore.

District Attorney Guy B. Moore of Buffalo was the second candidate placed in nomination for governor. His spokesman was Congressman Wallace Dempsey of Erie.

Machold Nominates Roosevelt.

The hall was swept with great applause when Speaker H. Edmund Machold went to the platform and placed Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in nomination for governor. Machold said Roosevelt will inspire a fighting spirit in the Republicans of the state.

What appeared to be a majority of the delegates, rose in their seats and cheered for Roosevelt.

Tompkins Named by Odell.

Former Governor Benjamin B. Odell of Newburgh was loudly cheered when he went to the platform and placed the name of Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Nyack, in nomination for governor. Judge Tompkins was the fourth candidate placed in line for the gubernatorial post.

Putnam County Presents Fish.

Much to the surprise of most of the delegates, Robert T. Wood of Putnam, placed the name of Congressman Hamilton Fish in nomination for governor. It had been expected the list would be confined to Roosevelt, Tompkins, Hayward and Moore.

Nominations Seconded.

State Senator Seymour Lowman of Elmira, seconded the nomination of Colonel Hayward. Alfred E. Alvares of West Chester also seconded Hayward's nomination.

William J. Marcy of Buffalo seconded Moore's nomination.

Mrs. Cora A. Forsyth of Monroe, seconded Roosevelt's nomination.

Former Lieutenant Governor Jeremiah Wood of Nassau, also seconded the nomination of Roosevelt.

Mrs. Lulu Serven of Rockland, seconded the nomination of Judge Tompkins.

Jacob A. Livingston, Kings county leader, was loudly cheered when he went to the platform and seconded Tompkins' nomination. He warned the convention to be careful who it nominated for governor. Cheers greeted his declaration that some one must be nominated against whom the finger of suspicion cannot be successfully pointed.

Roosevelt on First Ballot.

The official vote was: Roosevelt, 565; Colonel William Hayward, 187; Justice Arthur S. Tompkins, 134, and District Attorney Guy B. Moore 101. As soon as the vote was announced Former Governor Benjamin B. Odell of Newburgh, and District Attorney Moore moved that Roosevelt's nomination be made unanimous by acclamation. When Chairman Elsborg put the question a great shout in the affirmative rang through the hall.

Before the first ballot was completed Congressman Hamilton Fish of Putnam who had been placed in nomination, withdrew his name and threw his strength to Roosevelt.

Enthusiasm for Roosevelt.

Delegates in all parts of the hall jumped to their feet, threw their hats in the air and cheered lustily when it became apparent that Roosevelt was going across on the first ballot.

Some of the leaders were attempting to get recognition from the chairman in order to change their vote to Roosevelt, when Former Governor Odell moved to make the nomination unanimous.

The cheering for Roosevelt was not confined alone to the delegates. The galleries joined in a great cheer and it was only with great difficulty that order was restored.

As soon as Chairman Elsborg had declared Roosevelt unanimously nominated a motion was made to take a three-hour recess. It appeared as if the delegates wanted to complete the ticket at once because a great chorus of "noes" went up. Elsborg, however, ruled that the "ayes" had it and a few seconds later the delegates were leaving the hall, many of them shouting:

"Can Win With Teddy."

"We can win with Teddy," and "Teddy will treat 'em rough."

Roosevelt's nomination is regarded as a great victory for United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and in the opinion of delegates, makes him, the latter, the real leader of the Republican party in New York State.

The convention recessed until 4 o'clock during which time the leaders will decide on the remainder of the ticket.

It was predicted that when the convention meets after the recess the rest of the ticket will be put through in less than an hour.

It was reported Roosevelt would address the session later in the day.

Suspend License For Using Pastors

Practice of Using Pastors on Automobile Windshields Will Be Followed by Drastic Action, Warns State Commissioner.

Charles A. Harnett, state commissioner of motor vehicle department, has sent out the following letter under date of September 23, to all chiefs of police in the state of New York, and to the inspectors of his department stationed in the counties throughout the state:

Dear Sir:

A few days ago I made a ruling to the effect that all pastors be removed from windshields of automobiles in this state.

The reason for my ruling is that pastors prevent 100 per cent vision of the operator and 100 per cent vision is absolutely necessary in driving a car.

Will you please cooperate with this bureau and instruct all officers of your department to warn operators of this ruling and that licenses may be suspended for a continuation of this practice.

Y. W. C. A. SUPPER.

First of Season October 1st, When Delegates Will Report.

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. will hold their first supper of the season on next Wednesday, October 1st, at 6 o'clock at the association rooms. The program promises to be of special interest as the two delegates, Nan Rodie and Mae Perkins, who attended the Y. W. C. A. conference at Maqua, will tell their impressions.

The supper will be run on the same plan as that used last year, all registrations to be made before the Tuesday noon preceding the supper.

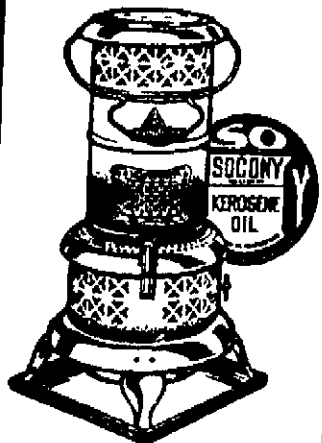

Girls are particularly urged to attend this first supper as plans for the fall and winter will be discussed and it is expected that the new folders, explaining the winter activities, will be distributed.

GETS CREDIT FOR INVENTION IN 1810

Clerk Was First to Devise Boxes in Post Office.

Washington.—Thomas Brown, a clerk in the Richmond (Va.) post office in 1810, has been given official credit for having invented the "post office box."

While there are no Post Office department records to show that Brown was the first to make and put the post office box in use, there is nothing on file to disprove the claim made for him by his great-granddaughter, Miss Mary D. Lewis of Tallahassee, Fla.

Postmaster General New, therefore, has replied to a letter from Miss Lewis presenting the claim by stating he is ready to give Brown the benefit of the doubt and acknowledge him as the inventor.

Brown's memoirs, published some time after his death, fully set forth the circumstances leading to the invention. He wrote:

"I was the inventor or planner of post office boxes. These were times of embargo, nonintercourse, etc., and, of course, speculation was rife. The first news was important and therefore there was always a great rush to the post office as soon as the mail came in, for letters."

"The universal plan was to hand out letters from a round pane of glass from the front window. I have seen the whole street blocked by people waiting their turn to get to the window to ask for letters."

Brown was asked to devise a plan to remedy the situation. He did so by fitting a partition across a large room, filling it with pigeonholes covered at one end with glass with each hole numbered in front and bearing the name of the box-holder at the open end. About 400 boxes were quickly engaged at 50 cents for each three months.

Brown's plan is still utilized in post offices throughout the smaller cities and towns of the country.

Aged Woman to Fight for Unsettled Estate

Camden, N. J.—The myth of a $1,000,000 estate remaining unsettled in New York was revived by the announcement by Miss Irene Powers, eighty-two years old, of Camden, that she intended to try to obtain a portion of the land supposed to have been left by Anneke Jans Bogardus. She said that she still hoped to share in the property, which comprises 62 acres between Broadway and the Hudson river, and includes the sites of the Woolworth building, Trinity church and other structures.

Although she has knowledge of the many futile attempts of this kind in the past, Miss Powers insists that she will pass her remaining years seeking to obtain millions which she declares are hers by right of inheritance.

Anneke Jans Bogardus inherited the property from her first husband, Roelof Jans, who bought it in 1630. She was supposed to have left the property under a 99-year lease to its occupants, with the understanding that it would revert to her heirs when the period expired. Actually, the property was transferred to the governor of the province, and later presented to Trinity church by Queen Anne.

On this flimsy evidence thousands of descendants of Anneke Jans have made attempts to acquire riches. The claim was outlawed by the New York State Court of Appeals in 1856, and again in 1881. Swindlers have repeatedly capitalized the story by luring supposed heirs into schemes for recovering the estate.

Standing Room Only Puts "Pep" in the Turk

Constantinople.—The new prefect of Constantinople, Emine Bey, to instill the spirit of "bustle" into the prefecture officials, has given orders that no chairs be allowed in any office except the chairs occupied by the officials themselves.

This is intended to discourage the inveterate habit of Turkish officials of comfortably installing their business visitors, treating them to coffee, and gossiping interminably without getting down to business.

Change Names at Will

Itiga.—A recent decree of the central soviet authorities grants every Russian citizen over eighteen years the right to change his family name and his first name as often as he pleases, with full legal validity, simply by notifying the registrar of the community.

Washington.—The engine used in a Bleriot monoplane to carry the first aerial mail in the United States has been presented to the Smithsonian Institution by Earl Ovington, a Santa Barbara (Cal.) aviator, who, in 1911, was sworn in as the first airmail postman.

The official document, bearing the signature of Postmaster General Hitchcock and Chief Inspector Morgan of New York also will be presented to the institution, together with a sample of mail carried on the first trip and a photograph of the plane.

Thieves Leave Gems, but, Man! That Pantry!

Baltimore, Md.—A queer lot of honest thieves visited the home of Warren Emmart, in Liberty road, Rockdale, according to his report to Catonsville police.

The intruders forced a rear window and made a tour of the house. Jewelry and money in the bedrooms and silver in the dining room were untouched.

But what they did to a freshly cooked ham in the icebox and some home-made bread in the breadbox was a crime, according to Emmart.

BOYS LOCKED IN TRUNK FOUND DEAD

Baby Innocently Snaps
Clasp During Game.

Chicago.—A three-year-old girl innocently snapped the clasp on the outside of a trunk into which her brother and a boy cousin had hidden while at play. They were found suffocated several hours later by their parents.

The trunk tragedy occurred at 1920 Burling street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dumele. The victims were Peter Dumele, five years old, and his twelve-year-old cousin, Frank Hoellich. The Hoellich boy's mother, who was married recently to Paul Konpas of 915 Concord place, had brought Frank and his ten-year-old brother, Antone, to play with Peter and his three-year-old sister, Rose, while she accompanied Mrs. Dumele on a shopping trip to the loop.

When Mr. Dumele returned home late in the afternoon he found the little girl asleep and Antone playing with John Corn, eleven years old, of 1624 Clybourn avenue, near the house. He asked the boys where Peter and Frank were. The boys replied they supposed they had gone over into Lincoln park to play. The father searched the neighborhood, but could find no one who had seen them. The mothers returned from the shopping trip. Little Rose was awakened from her nap and questioned.

"O, Pete and Frankie are sleeping in the trunk in the front room," the child explained.

Father and mother rushed to the locked trunk and tore frantically at the clasp. The lid was flung back and the huddled forms of the boys were inside. Mrs. Dumele's screams attracted neighbors, who summoned the police and pulmotor squad 10. The firemen worked for nearly an hour before giving up attempts to resuscitate the children.

Transplant Bone From Leg to Spinal Column

Baltimore, Md.—Doctors at Johns Hopkins hospital have performed what they believe to be the most remarkable bone-graft operation in the history of the institution, in the transplanting of a piece of bone from the lower right leg to the spinal column of Forrest Wileford, thirty-eight, of Newport, W. Va.

Wileford suffered a dislocated vertebra in an automobile accident three years ago, and his condition became gradually worse until he was brought to Johns Hopkins four weeks ago. Physicians found that complications had set in which necessitated removal of the diseased vertebra.

It being impossible to shorten the spine, a piece of shin bone was shaped into the form of a vertebra and inserted in the weakened part of Wileford's back. He was then placed in a plaster cast.

The operation was announced as successful.

Squirt Ether Into Air Then Rob Hotel at Ease

Paris.—A hotel keeper in the old Temple quarter in Paris was robbed by a new trick of squirting ether into the air in the rooms where the manager and servants slept. The job was done so neatly that the household awoke next morning with headaches and discovered several thousand dollars' worth of jewels, currency and furniture gone.

When the police were called they found the air faintly impregnated with ether.

Shock Kills Cow

Wichita, Kans.—When it is decided whether the city or county has jurisdiction, the claim of Mrs. Elizabeth Cronk of $125 for the loss of a cow, as she alleges through fright, will be considered. It is claimed that the woman's cow was contentedly munching hay in the barnyard when a giant blast was set off to break an ice jam in the Big Arkansas river, nearby. The detonation so disturbed the animal's nerves that she died. Veterinarians will testify as to the nerves of a cow and the effect of shock on them.

Dog Makes Long Trip

Portsmouth, Ohio.—Buster, an Airedale dog which W. F. Wedebrook sold two years ago while visiting in Los Angeles, came back to his old home near here recently, dirty and covered with cockleburrs.

After a joyous demonstration at the sight of his old master the dog fell asleep and slept 24 hours.

Buster's home with Wedebrook is now a permanent one.

Three new reasons for owning a Victrola instrument

Wagner's masterpiece—the entire "Ring" drama just as you would hear it at the opera. The Rachmaninoff Concerto with the Philadelphia Orchestra and Rachmaninoff the composer himself at the piano. Twelve-inch records with four dance selections on a record, by Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra.

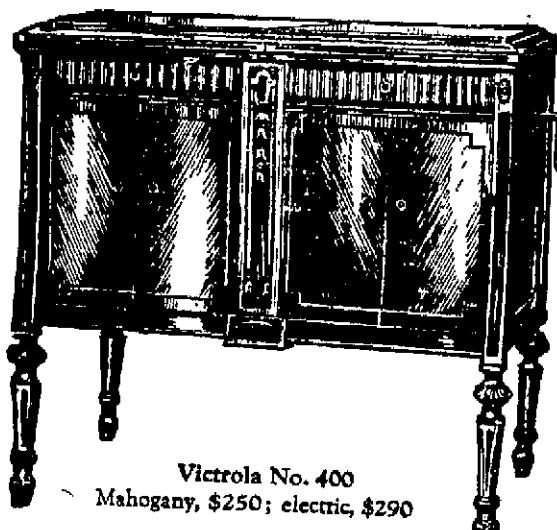

These are a few of the new contributions to music made by the Victor Company. Other new satisfactions are offered every week almost as a matter of course and always with that excellence of performance which has made Victrola Instruments and Victor Records the standard of comparison.

HAM HAS MANY USES IN PREPARING SALADS

"It is not so very long ago that salads were considered a luxury, but we are now more sensible and realize they are a necessity, and should be served daily," says Miss Erna J. Bertram, director of the Food Economics Dept. of Armour and Co. "By using a bit of ingenuity of originality, some of the most attractive and apparently 'luxurious' salads may be prepared by merely combining various supplies to be found in the icebox."

"When the housewife buys a staple like a whole ham, she has the foundation for a variety of the most restful salads, and especially is it to be recommended for the summer time. We require a certain amount of meat to supply the necessary protein and yet on these warm days we crave something light and refreshing in place of the hot roast. Ham combined with vegetables and served very cold on crisp lettuce supplies this need and is one dish that tempts the appetite when others fail."

"Is the man of your house one who disparages a salad, regarding it as a mere 'frillery'? Prepare a salad from one of the following recipes and I will wager his prejudice will instantly vanish. He will regard the salad with ham as the foundation as hearty and nutritious and will wonder why it is you haven't served it to him before."

Mexican Salad.

2 c. boiled ham
1 c. cold boiled diced potatoes
1 tsp. salad oil
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
1 tsp. minced onion
1 c. shredded celery
1 c. mayonnaise
1 tsp. vinegar
Mix oil with ham and potatoes. Chill. When ready to serve add remaining ingredients. Arrange in individual servings on lettuce and serve on a large platter. Garnish with strips of pimiento.

Hau and Cabbage Salad.

2 c. shredded cabbage
1/2 c. diced celery
1/2 c. chopped olives
1 c. chopped cooked ham
Combine the ingredients, mixing with enough cooled salad dressing seasoned with prepared mustard to moisten well. Serve on lettuce leaves and garnish with radishes and slices of cold boiled eggs.

Stuffed Cucumber Salad.

3 cucumbers
3 tsp. gelatine
1 stalk celery minced
1 1/2 c. chopped ham
1/2 c. cold water
1/2 c. boiling water
2 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
2 1/2 tsp. vinegar
1/2 c. whipped cream
1/2 c. salad dressing
1 c. chopped nuts
Pare cucumbers, scrape out centers, leaving 1/2 of an inch thickness around the edge. Chop the centers into small pieces, and add remaining ingredients. Refill cucumbers, chill until gelatin is set, cut in slices and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with salad dressing mixed with whipped cream.

Ham Salad in Pepper Cases.

2 c. ham cut in cubes
2 c. diced cold boiled potatoes
3 large sweet green peppers
3/4 c. boiled dressing
Parsley
Cut peppers in halves lengthwise, remove seed and fibrous portions. Immerse in boiling water and boil for five minutes; plunge into cold water. When cool enough to handle, peel off the thin paper-like skin. Cover with cold water and set in a cold place for one hour to crisp. Mix ham and potatoes, mix with the dressing, fill cases, sprinkle minced parsley over top. Serve on individual salad plates on a bed of shredded lettuce.

NEW PALTZ.

SODAS AND SUNDAES

"I'm the favorite of all," said the chocolate ice cream soda.

"Well, I'm pretty popular," said the vanilla ice cream soda. "They like me, too," said the coffee ice cream soda.

"Don't forget to mention me," said the strawberry ice cream soda.

"I'm nice and refreshing," said the orange.

"No more so than I am," said the lemon phosphate.

"Ah, but what about us," said several of the ice cream cones.

"And you'd better mention us," said the sundae.

"You might speak of me," said the banana split.

Some one was giving a big party that afternoon and the order had just been given for many ice cream sodas and sundae and ice cream cones.

The one who was giving the party had just given the order and the children for whom the party was being given were expected to arrive in just another moment.

They had been on a long hike and they were to end up with this party.

"Well," said the chocolate ice cream soda, "I have heard that once a little girl wrote a composition in school about her favorite friend.

"She wrote about a kind friend who used to treat her to chocolate ice cream sodas almost every time she met this friend.

"The teacher wrote upon the composition afterward:

"Do you like your friend better than the ice cream sodas, or do you like the ice cream sodas better than your friend? From this composition it is hard to tell."

"Now that was a great compliment to our family—to the whole, delicious family of chocolate ice cream sodas."

"Maybe you are the most popular," said the vanilla ice cream soda.

"Yet," the vanilla ice cream soda continued, "if any one wants to have me I seem quite as delicious as you do."

"And that is just the way it is with me," said the strawberry ice cream soda.

"I am pretty in color, too," said the orangeade.

"Well, we're not so handsome but we're awfully good," said the ice cream cones.

"They're coming now," said the chocolate ice cream soda. "I can hear their voices."

"Oh, how exciting this is! I get so excited myself that I can hardly wait to be eaten and enjoyed."

"You know they say that we are all eaten so quickly but it is because we help, too, in our eagerness and excitement."

"Here they come," the vanilla ice cream soda said.

"Yes, here they come," said the coffee ice cream soda.

"How exciting," said the strawberry ice cream soda.

"Isn't it?" said the orangeade.

"Just delightful," said the lemon phosphate.

"Splendid," said the banana split.

And the sundae, looking very gay with their handsome sauces spread all over them, said:

"The ones who ordered us are looking at us."

"Here, we're being taken," said the ice cream cones.

Every ice cream soda, every sundae and ice cream cone and phosphate and all, soon had completely disappeared.

But there were still the boys and girls here and their faces looked really quite pleased, for they had just eaten such delicious refreshments, and after the long walk and the warmth they felt this was delightful.

Had the chocolate ice cream soda not been eaten so fast it would have heard many more orders given for members of its family from others who came into the store, for the chocolate ice cream soda was pretty nearly right.

It was pretty nearly right to call it the favorite of all.

Dorothy Was Stung

"What are you crying about, Edwin?" asked a mother of her four-year-old son.

"Cause Dorothy's mean to me," he sobbed.

"What has she been doing?" asked his mother.

"I ate all my candy and now she won't give me half of hers," was the reply.

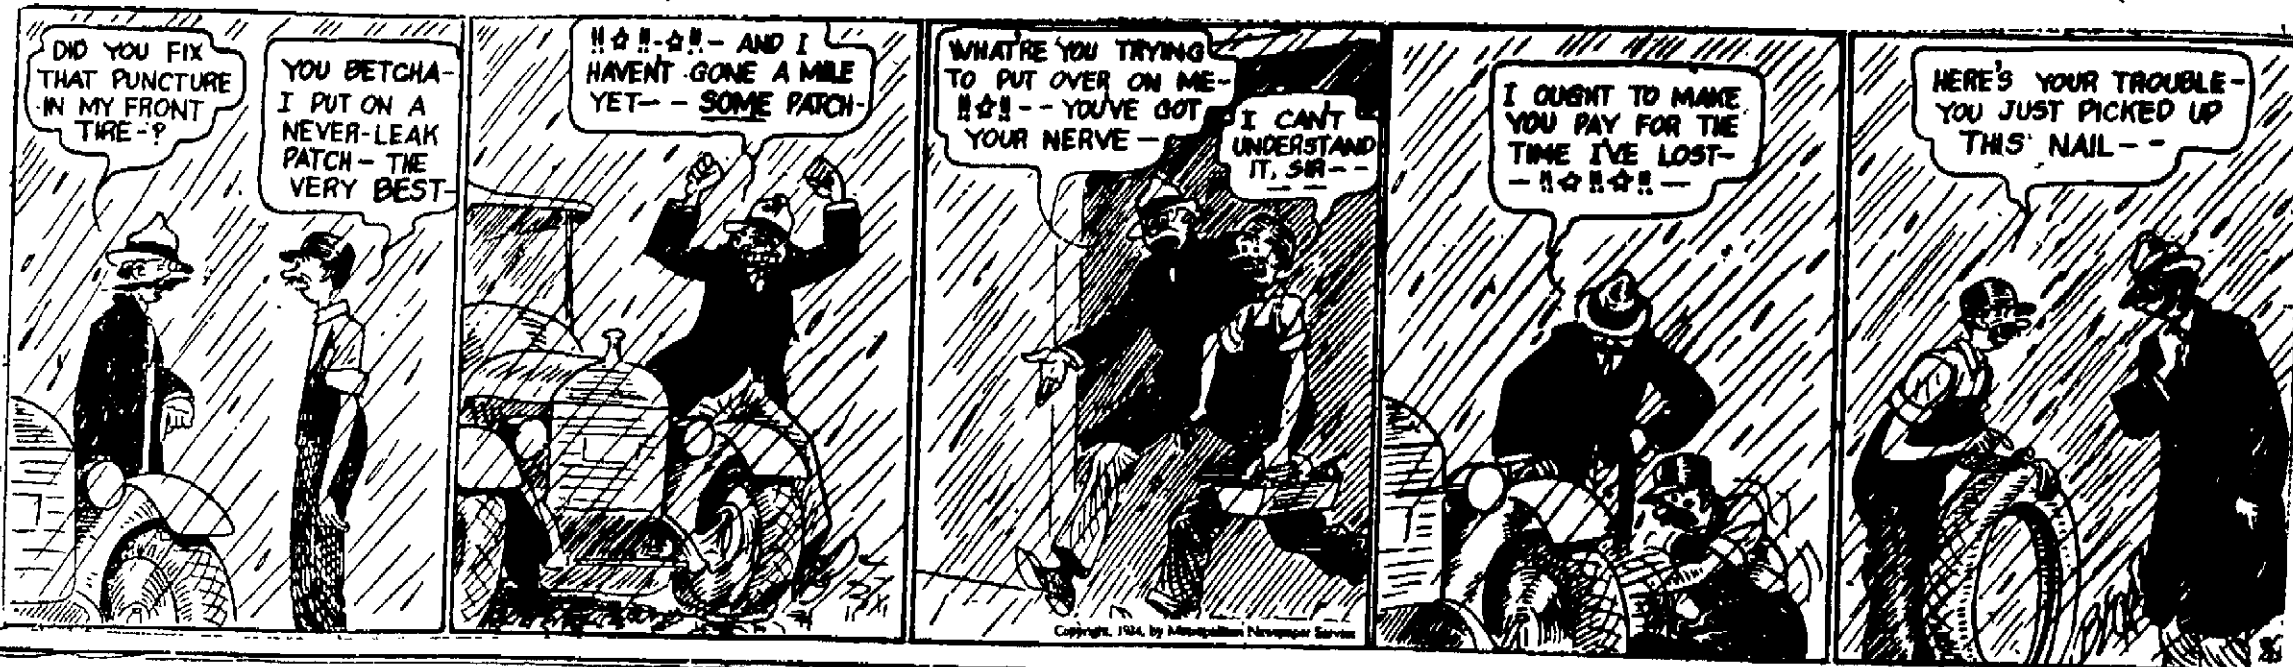

Dear Miss:

WHOLESALE DESSERTS

A pudding should be interesting enough to please the eye, appetizing enough to please the taste, and yet not too elaborate to be easily prepared.

Canaan Custard—Beat three eggs, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, a pinch of salt, a grating of orange or lemon peel, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla; beat again and pour over three cupsful of scalding milk. Pour into a glass dish, leaving an inch at the top unfilled. Cut one-third-inch slices of cake into narrow pie-shaped wedges and place on top of the custard, not quite touching. Let the cake soak a few minutes, sprinkle the top with chopped almonds and bake set in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven until the custard is set.

Blanc Manger—Take one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch in a with one fourth cupful of sugar and one cupful of milk. Cook carefully until thick, then add a beaten egg mixed with one cupful or a little less of cold milk; cook long enough to cook the egg. Pour into serving dishes and serve with cream and a spoonful of preserved strawberries.

Fruit Cup—Prepare a lemon syrup using a little of the grated rind, one-half cupful of juice and two cupfuls of sugar; boil until thick, and cool.

Prepare with a potato scoop enough balls from ripe musk melons. Fill sherbet glasses and pour over the lemon syrup, garnish with a fresh sprig of mint. Ginger syrup may be used if liked and if water melon balls are used any fruit juice which one likes may be used to flavor the syrup—pineapple is especially good.

Apple Goody—Slice early apples to fill a deep buttered dish, squeeze over the juice of a large orange and add a little grated peel. To a quart of the apple add one-half cupful of sugar, dot with butter and bake until soft, but not dry. The last of the cooking sprinkle the top with chopped almonds. Serve cold with cream. In cold weather this makes a nice hot dessert.

YOUNG CALVES OVERFED BY HIGH BRED MOTHERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman, Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Modern calves get too much nourishment in the first two weeks of their life, says Dr. P. A. Fish of the New York State Veterinary College here. The rich milk which the highly developed present-day dairy cow produces probably contains too much fat for the normal demands of her offspring.

Sickness and early mortality, says Dr. Fish, are much more prevalent among calves than among lambs, goats, and swine, and the reason for this lies in the different purposes of the breeding of the female of these species. Originally, the cow, like the others, produced milk for its young only. Dr. Fish points out that under those conditions it is probable that there were no more fatalities among calves than with the young of the other animals.

But man took a hand and started breeding the cow for milk production, with two results significant in the raising of calves: the amount of milk was increased over a greatly prolonged period, and the amount of butter fat in that milk was greatly increased. Dr. Fish says that a comparison of the analyses of milk from a high-bred cow and from a scrub cow shows a great difference in fat and other constituents, and that if it were possible to know the analysis of the milk from the ancestral cow which produced milk only for its calf, probably vastly greater differences would be found.

In spite of these facts, the modern calf probably has the same sort of digestive tract that the ancestral calf did. The result is that the original ancestral digestive apparatus has to handle a food material that is radically different from what it was designed for.

Accordingly, two distinct dangers present themselves; that of overeating, and disturbed nutrition from an excess of fat in the food.

Preventive measures suggested by Dr. Fish are to cut the amount of food for the first few days or weeks, increasing the quantity a little as the calf grows; and preventing the calf from getting other food or foreign material. The excess of fat and the resultant fatty acids in the calf's stomach is apt to cause acidosis, and as a remedy for it Dr. Fish advises using an alkali like sodium bicarbonate.

Licenses for All Who Qualify

Persons Not Owning Automobiles, and Not Immediate Relatives of Owners, Will Be Allowed Operator's License—Chauffeur's License as Heretofore Not Required Under New Ruling.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Sept. 25.—Under a ruling made today by Charles A. Harnett, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, thousands of persons in New York state who do not own automobiles, and are not the immediate relatives of persons owning automobiles, will be allowed to take out operators' license if they meet the requirements of the motor vehicle bureau.

This ruling by Commissioner Harnett is intended to do away with the necessity of such persons taking out chauffeur licenses. In the past the policy of the motor vehicle bureau has been to refuse to issue operators' licenses to any except persons owning automobiles and members of the immediate family of an owner, requiring other persons to obtain chauffeur licenses.

The new motor vehicle law provides that an operator's license "shall be issued" without a driving examination up to January 1st to "an owner of a motor vehicle or a member of his immediate family." In the discretion of the motor vehicle commissioner.

"The statute," said Commissioner Harnett today, "does not prohibit in terms the issuance of operators' licenses to other persons, and hereafter any person who cannot qualify as an owner of a motor vehicle registered in 1924, or as a member of the immediate family of such an owner, will be issued an operator's license upon application provided he passes an examination, but not otherwise."

This new ruling means that a great many persons who have been advised since July 1, that they would have to take out a chauffeur's license because they did not own a car or were not members of an immediate household in which a car was owned, now may be permitted to obtain an operator's license.

Commissioner Harnett made the new ruling after several conferences with legal experts in the tax department and the motor vehicle bureau, also with Deputy Attorney-General Charles E. McManus, who was authorized to speak in the matter for Attorney-General Carl Sherman. It was agreed by Deputy Attorney-General McManus, William B. Sill, Counsel for the State Tax Commission, John P. Hennessey, Deputy Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, in charge of revocations and suspensions, and Stuart C. Knight, in charge of the law division of the motor vehicle bureau, that the phraseology of that part of the motor vehicle law which provides that an operator's license "shall be issued" to an owner of a motor vehicle or a member of his immediate family, did not mean that applicants for operators' licenses who did not come within either of these classifications should be refused a license.

It was found that old provisions of the state highway law and the motor vehicle law of the state, made it plain that persons who did not own automobiles and who were not members of immediate households, in which automobiles were owned, were not to be deprived of operators' licenses.

For the several years that the operators licensing law has been in effect in New York city, driving permits have been issued to persons who did not own a car and were not members of the immediate family of an owner.

The memorandum of Mr. Sill, on which Commissioner Harnett based his ruling of today, and in which deputy commissioner Hennessey, Mr. Knight and Deputy Attorney-General McManus concurred, quotes section 231 of the highway law defining a "chauffeur" as:

"Any person operating or driving motor vehicles as an employee or for hire."

The same section defines an "operator" to mean:

"Any person, other than a chauffeur, who operates or drives a motor vehicle before the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, in a county wholly included in a city, and on or after that day upon any public highway as hereinafter defined."

"In other words," the memorandum continues, "the statute says that after October first any person who drives a motor vehicle on the highways of the state is an operator unless such person shall drive as an employee or for hire. It is true, therefore, that a driver not operating a motor vehicle as an employee or for hire does not come within the definition of a chauffeur and would seem to fall within the class of an operator."

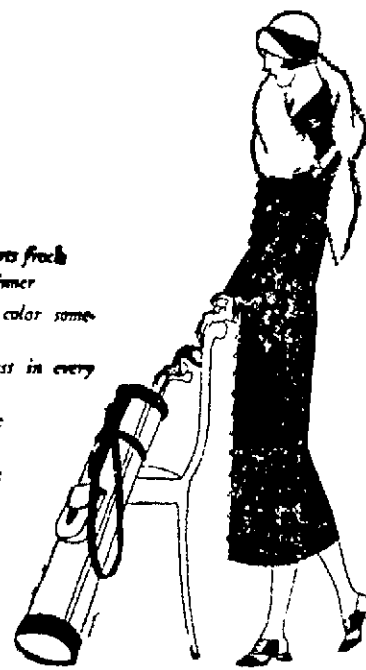

The memorandum quotes the provisions of subdivision 1 of section 289 of the highway law relating to issuance of licenses to operators and chauffeurs as follows:

(a) The owner of a motor vehicle or a member of his immediate family shall be granted an operator's license, subject to this article, . . .

(b) If application for a chauffeur's or operator's license be made to a county clerk, it shall be referred immediately to an inspector, and the license shall not be issued except upon the inspector's certification that the applicant has passed an examination or that examination is unnecessary; provided, however, that an owner of a motor vehicle or a member of his immediate family who applies in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-four after July first for an operator's license, and who shall have operated a motor vehicle on

HAUNTED YEARS. MAN FINDS HE IS NOT MURDERER

Attempts to End Life After Suffering Mental Torture Reveals Strange Story.

Birmingham, Ala.—Oliver Cameron has been returned to Birmingham from Portland, Ore., where an attempt at suicide gave first intimation of the mental turmoil through which he has passed in his efforts to forget what he believed to be murder committed more than 22 years ago.

A wanderer over the earth for more than a score of years, Cameron has faced almost unbelievable hardships in his efforts to forget the crime he thought he had committed. With the haunting memory always with him, he has been traveling steadily.

There is a touch of the pathetic in his story. Always, he says, he wanted a home of his own, with a wife and children. His fondest memories are those of the days when he was planning his future, before the time that he is alleged to have assaulted W. J. Gay.

Walks Hundreds of Miles.

On leaving Birmingham in 1902 after shooting Gay, Cameron says, he walked hundreds of miles in his efforts to escape arrest. He joined the navy, traveling to the furthestmost parts of the earth, but always there was the memory of his deed to torture him. Following the navy service he became a wanderer over the country.

Pursued relentlessly by the thoughts of what he had done, he kept ever moving. Illusions of authorities following were with him constantly, and he forever was attempting to foil his imaginary pursuers. He used a different name in every town he entered.

Illusions of Authorities Following Were With Him Constantly.

and made no efforts to communicate with friends for fear that he might be apprehended through the correspondence. At last, driven to desperation by what had grown to be fanatic thinking of the subject, he threw himself into a river at Portland, Ore., with the hopes of destroying his haunting memories forever.

Confesses "Crime."

He was rescued, however, and in a moment of laxity after he had reached the hospital, confessed to the crime he thought he had committed. Portland authorities communicated with the Birmingham sheriff's office. Gay, the man whom he had shot, recovered from the wound. Indictments on assault with intent to murder and carrying concealed weapons charges had been returned by the grand jury at the time of the shooting, but long since had been stored in the musty files of the sheriff's office.

None of the present members of the sheriff's force recalled the crime. A lengthy search was necessary to locate the indictments, and after they had been again brought to light, considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining money with which to return Cameron to Birmingham.

Years of privation and mental torture have left their mark on Cameron. He is emaciated, his face wears a drawn expression, and his mentality has begun to waver under the constant strain. He goes about the county jail as a man in a daze, not quite sure why he's there.

Rip Up Fire Escape to Free Heavy Woman

New York.—Firemen were called to rescue an eighty-five-year-old woman weighing 300 pounds when she became wedged between the ladder and railing of an upper West side tenement house fire escape in an attempt to reach the roof, where, she said, she often sat looking at the stars. The fire escape was wrecked before she could be liberated.

THE ELECTRIC FARM.

Electrification Plans Being Worked Out in Various Sections.

Definite steps to solve the economic puzzle involved in the electrification of the American farm have at last been taken. Investigations are projected in several different sections of the nation to discover the secret of taking electric service to the farms so that it will be beneficial both to the farmers and the power companies.

Probably the most advanced of these experiments has been undertaken in Minnesota by several co-operating agencies. Chief among them are the University of Minnesota, the Northern States Power Company and a group of farmers living in the vicinity of Red Wing, a town in the southeastern part of the state. Several electrical manufacturing concerns, such as the General Electric Company, as well as manufacturers of farm machinery, are watching the undertaking.

Already a trial farm transmission line, five miles in length, has been built out of Red Wing, and eighteen farms have been connected up to it. A carefully thought-out rate structure has been set up, under which, after paying monthly fixed charges, the farmer is offered really low rates for energy which have the effect of making his electricity cheaper per kilowatt hour the more energy he uses. The aim here is to establish such rates as will invite the farmer to use energy in quantity, thereby insuring for himself cheap electricity, with all the advantages that it gives him in his work and his home, and at the same time providing a profitable revenue for the power company so that it becomes attractive for the latter to handle the business of supplying electricity for farms.

In other sections of the country, notably in Alabama, this whole broad question is also under investigation. In that state it is the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, and the Alabama Power Company which are co-operating to establish a basis upon which farm electrification may be carried out. The actual building of power lines in Alabama is well under way, and instead of merely one line, several are being planned for.

There will be all told four lines in Alabama, of which one, at Huntsville, is thus far laid out. This is in northern Alabama, in what is known as the Tennessee valley. A second line will be built in the eastern part of the state, at Five Points, a third north of Birmingham, a dairy and crop section, and a fourth in an area of large farms known as the block belt.

Big Five of Yankee Machine in American League Race

Left to right are Herbie Pennock, star southpaw; Wallie Schang, first-string and heavy-hitting catcher; Whitey, the speedy white-haired and heavy-hitting center fielder; the one and only Babe Ruth, king of the home run; and Bob Meusel, he of the deadly right arm and keen batting eye. They are the big guns in the 1924 Yankee machine.

IVAN OLSON SHREWD AS BASEBALL PLAYER

Criticized by Ancient Advice "Use Your Head."

"Use your head." That advice has been handed down in a multitude of occasions ever since Adam pulled it the first time as advice to the goat which was having trouble going aboard the ark.

Ivan Olson is one of the greatest examples of how that advice, in right, will profit a man.

Here is a player who should have been out of big leagues years ago as a purely mechanical playing ability is concerned, but who kept plugging away because of his shrewd brain and fighting spirit.

Now, though through as a player, he is one of the main cogs in the Brooklyn Dodgers machine—and one of the men responsible for keeping that machine up in the race against the judgment of most scribes.

Olson never was a great player, mechanically. He is erratic in his fielding, his errors, unfortunately, usually costly. Yet despite his handling and occasional slumps, he has kept the infield in the big leagues since 1911.

In the first four of those years he played with Cleveland. The next year, he went to Cincinnati. Even today in his career his inconsistency playing had caused the Cleveland club to let him go at the waiver price. The Reds let him go to Brooklyn before the season ended. His reception there was cool. Year after year the scribes panned Uncle Robinson at various times for leaving him in the lineup. Fans rode Ivan hard. But Olson kept right on.

He played every infield position for Cleveland and did the same for the Dodgers over the years between 1915 and this spring.

Olson possesses that rare quality of judgment needed in an infielder which enables him to outguess the opposing batter and anticipate actions at the bases. He not only steadies the infield but encourages a pitcher and helps him.

Olson played a part in two successful attempts made by Brooklyn to win the National league championship—in 1918 and 1920. In the latter series, against his old Cleveland teammates, Olson hit .320, collecting eight hits in 15 times up.

Soccer Is Money-Maker

The report of the Aston Villa soccer football club of England for the season just closed gives a side light on the receipts of a first-class team. The club made a profit of $10,705 on the season and the balance in the treasury was $148,780. The gate receipts amounted to $279,615, of which $48,135 was deducted for entertainment tax. Players' wages, bonus benefits and transfers of players cost $72,000.

See Miss: You will be proud to wear any of the new Schiffer & Marx women's coats we are showing. Come in and treat yourself to a big surprise.

Nurmi and Ritola Hit English Form

The correspondent of Sporting Life (London) had a talk with Nurmi and Willie Ritola at the games in Paris and this is what they told him:

"You English are wrong in your racing methods. We have proved that it is not necessary to be on your toes all the time. You should not be on your toes in races over a mile. The leg and thigh muscles will not enable you to do this with success."

"You must, however, not run as you would call it 'flat-footed.' But you must run upright, head erect, chest out and heel touching quite lightly the ground at every stride, and then, and only then, rising to the toes in order to give impetus."

This game is scheduled to be played on November 8 at Kingston. The Kingston High and S. S.'s second team have been rivals for a period of years. Much interest is being shown about campus over the reported schedule and lively contest is expected.

"YOUNG" STRIBLING BEATEN.

Ad Stone, Another Light Heavy-weight, to the Fore.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25—Ad Stone, brilliant young fighter of Philadelphia and Paterson, stood today in the fore among light-heavyweights as a result of his victory over William L. "Young" Stribling, Georgia high school boy, at the Sussex avenue armory here last night.

Ten thousand fight fans saw Stone, hammering incessantly at Stribling's stomach, slow up the conqueror of Mike McGigue and outbox and outslug him in 12 rounds. Stone had everything but the punch necessary to stow away his adversary. Only in the third and ninth did Stribling show to advantage. Those rounds were even.

Stone's weight was 179 pounds, Stribling's 168.

Prickly Pear Pest

Vast areas in Queensland and New South Wales are being overrun by prickly pears. The pestilent cactus was introduced into Queensland several years ago by an American girl, who brought a cutting from California to remind her of her old home. The plant is extremely prolific and practically cannot be eradicated.

Have you seen this new car?
—It is a closed-open car!

A WEEK ago the new Studebaker Special Six DUPLEX-PHAETON was first announced.

Today, countless thousands of people are talking about this entirely new type of car.

One moment it is a closed car—in five seconds it can be transformed into a delightful, airy, open car. But it is always the closed car in deep soft cushions, beautiful fittings and finish and luxurious riding comforts.

When you see it and ride in it you will know why it has made so profound a sensation—you will realize then that it gives you more than the finest open car can ever give you, plus the comfort and protection of the closed car.

And all at the price of an open car!

And this is the new DUPLEX BODY on the famous Special Six Chassis.

Hundreds of thousands of owners all over this country and abroad have given the Studebaker Special Six a name for value, dependability and performance second to no other automobile.

The new Studebaker Special Six retains all the qualities which make great reputation—to these have been added every real improvement which science and owner-service could suggest.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPLEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—to that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty.

In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

If you have not seen this NEW type car—come today!

SERGEANT HAS ATTRACTIVE JOB

Nothing at All to Do and Has Private to Do It for Him.

New London, Conn.—When it comes to sitting pretty on the top of the world and letting your feet hang down, Sergt. Joseph Eros, United States army, stands in a class by himself. He has nothing whatever to do, and an enlisted man to do it for him. That situation, as any buck private would testify, is as close to heaven as any sergeant has a right to hope to get.

Sergeant Eros commands the garrison of Fort Mansfield, a sea coast fortification a dozen miles east of here at Watch Hill, R. I. Furthermore, he and his lone private, Harry Dell, constitute the whole garrison. It is doubtful whether any other sergeant anywhere is as well-found as Sergeant Eros. To plant the soles of his garrison shoes on he has 96 acres of reservation—48 acres for each foot. To shelter his head he has no less than 20 buildings, including officers' quarters, barracks and hospital. He has an extensive system of water-works and sewers, a network of macadam roads and a good half mile of granolithic walk along the ocean front. He has a large parade ground to march on; an elaborate though dismantled system of electric lights, and a perfect maze of buried telephone and telegraph cables.

Battery of Eight-Inch Guns. To defend himself, his private and his country, he has three batteries of eight-inch guns, two emplacements of rapid fire, a mine central station and emplacements for mammoth searchlights.

Of course, he also has certain responsibilities. As sole fount of authority in the fort he is not merely commander, but also personnel officer and material officer. He is perpetual officer of the day and officer of the guard. If he should find it necessary to go into action, he would be fire commander, support commander, mine commander, communication officer, range officer, emplacement officer, mine field officer, battery commander, signal officer, ordnance officer, observer, plotter and gun pointer, unless he let Harry Dell do the pointing. But Harry himself would be fairly busy as gun-pit detail, azimuth setter, elevation setter, powder-serving detail, truck detail, sponge detail and range and deflection recorder, besides serving as orderly, running the searchlights and answering the telephone.

In these piping times of peace, of course, Sergeant Eros' duties are a little less onerous, though at that he naturally holds a long list of the special ratings peculiar to his highly technical branch of the service. He is, for instance, the post sergeant major of Fort Mansfield and its electrician sergeant, ordnance and quartermaster and commissary sergeant, signal sergeant, mine sergeant and chief mine planter.

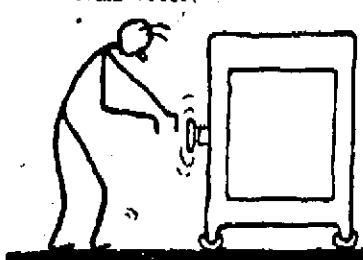

Has Time for Family. When he isn't tinkering round with one or another of these jobs or inspecting Harry Dell, or drilling Harry in company formation, or making the rounds of Harry when Harry is standing sentry, Sergeant Eros relaxes in the bosom of his family. For he is a married man, with his wife and little boy installed in one of the residences on officers' row which suits their fancy.

And he gets a fair amount of relaxation, for Fort Mansfield, a quarter of a century ago an up-to-date fortification defending the eastern entrance to Long Island sound, is now practically abandoned, though a recent survey has been carried out by engineers who suggested the reservation would make an ideal aviation station.

It consists of a crescent-shaped peninsula, some three miles long and a few hundred feet wide, which juts out into the sea as a continuation of the Watch Hill bathing beach. Before the fort was built the long sandy strip was known as Napatree Point. Skirted on the south by Fisher's Island sound and on the north by Little Narragansett bay, the peninsula forms a natural breakwater. Its really beautiful harbor would form a safe haven for flying boats, with full protection from the tempestuous seas that sometimes roll in from the Atlantic there. And the land strip is wide enough and smooth enough to accommodate planes with wheeled landing gear.

Like Deserted Village. In its present condition Fort Mansfield makes one think of Goldsmith's deserted village. But the government engineers had an enormous job on their hands when they converted the extensive stretch of sand dunes into what was at that time a modern fortification. Work on it began about 1898 and a garrison first occupied the place in 1901. When it was abandoned in 1911 three batteries of stone and cement had been built and armed, the largest with two eight-inch guns. The last company to occupy the post was the Eighty-first artillery, with a strength of 101 men and 20 officers.

On the land approach to Fort Mansfield there is still a sign, somewhat weatherbeaten, warning visitors not to enter the reservation without obtaining a pass or permit. The impression is given that the fort is still doing martial business at the old stand is quickly dissipated by a tour of the grounds. The masonry of the emplacements is beginning to crumble. The big guns have all been dismantled and shipped to other stations, and the water hydrants are smothered in grass and brambles or half buried by the march of shifting sand. A heavy breakwater of planks and spiles has protected the ocean frontage fairly well, but some of the big seas have washed over it and undermined the buildings. The granolithic walk has also come in for its share of damage, having been so thoroughly undermined that it suggests a recent earthquake.

If you would borrow or would lend A "money" ad we recommend.

No Use Longer as Fort. The fort was abandoned because there is no real need of big guns there today. The long-range monsters mounted at Fort Wright, Fisher's Island and at Forts Michie and Terry, on Gull and Plum Islands, fully command the eastern and southern approaches from the Atlantic.

A few months ago the reservation was offered for sale for $300,000. Citizens of Westerly, R. I., were interested, and for a time it was thought the peninsula would be converted into a recreation park or a cluster of summer homes. But nothing definite was done, and recently it was announced the government will retain its whole holding of 96 acres.

Sergeant Eros was glad to hear that. Even with the terrific load of mixed responsibilities and duties under which he staggers, he has become attached to the fort, and would hate to leave it.

Private Harry Dell reserves his opinion for home use. Naturally, as a lone enlisted man exposed to the full and undivided attention of a whole sergeant, he is no chirping optimist.

But even Harry has his brighter days. Every now and then Commander Eros writes a pass for Sergeant Eros, and the Robinson Crusoe of Fort Mansfield takes the missus and kid and goes to the mainland for a day off, leaving Harry Dell in full charge.

Ambiguous

On the door of a small laundry in a Massachusetts town the following notice to patrons was posted. Passersby read it and laughed, or sympathetically refrained from doing so, according to their individual natures: "Closed account of sickness till Monday, or possibly Wednesday. I am not expected to live. Shall be unable to deliver for at least a week, in any case."

New Use for Zeppelins

An Austrian scientist, by means of applying the short radio wave, made it possible to use Zeppelin airships for land reconnoitering in large desert and waste areas. If this method is adopted, he says, the short radio waves can be used in locating water deposits in the desert or waste land. It would be an indication of water underground if the short waves were reflected from the ground.

9,000 Operator Licenses Issued

Five hundred operator's licenses were issued on Wednesday to motor vehicle drivers by the motor vehicle bureau at the county clerk's office. At times the room, which is a small one, was crowded with applicants awaiting their turn. County Clerk Saxe states that all will be accommodated if they call before the office closes about 6 p. m., and the applications coming by mail will be attended to in the evening after the regular business is over. Up to noon about 9,000 licenses had been issued to operators. Inspector Joseph O'Donnell of the state automobile bureau is giving road tests daily to those who have applied for chauffeur license cards and who have them filled out correctly with photographs required. On Wednesday about 75 road tests were given.

It had been worked out in Pennsylvania. There the school property consisted not only of the school building, but of a house for the three teachers; ground; and an auto to bring pupils to and take them from school. The janitor lived in the rear of the house for the teachers; cared for the school and grounds and was the chauffeur of the school auto.

Mr. Ward closed his talk with an excellent technical discussion as to how to improve the professional standing of the teachers themselves. The next speaker was Miss Dorothy M. Giddings, supervisor of the Primary Grades at the New Paltz Normal School, who spoke on "Reading." Miss Giddings evidently believed that reading was quite an essential part of living, and was so human and natural and so thoroughly conversant with her subject, which she presented admirably, that she held the closest attention of all present.

To begin with she required a background of good health on the part of the pupils, if they are to make good in any subject. A large part of her talk was concerned with "Silent Reading," since educators have come to learn that the adult does almost no reading aloud in comparison to his or her silent reading. Miss Giddings was also strong for discussion of what the children read, and for the teacher learning what the child reads out of school, and why he or she reads such books as she or he does. Again she advocated the idea of each child buying at least one book for his or her very own every year. Apparent all that Miss Giddings said was worth while.

Following a short recess, Superintendent Andrews introduced the last speaker of the morning, David Hutchins, professor of government in the New York State College for Teachers at Albany, who spoke on the subject: "The United States and the World Court."

STUDEBAKER WILL PLAY AT BLOOMINGTON SUNDAY.

The Studebaker baseball club of East Kingston will travel to Bloomington Sunday afternoon to meet the fast team representing that place. The Bloomington team has been playing an excellent brand of ball all season and are confident of adding the Studebakers to their list of wins. The Studebakers got a big setback last Sunday at Olive Bridge, but during the week Manager McNally has signed up some new players who he expects will give a good account of themselves when they take the field Sunday. Port will probably do the pitching for Manager Johnston's team, while either Deltz or Tierney will be on the mound for the Studebakers. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Genuine Maltese In Ulster Jail

Prisoner Discharged From Napanoch Institute For Defective Delinquents Held By County Authorities And Taken To Boston.

Charles Swirliff, who was taken in custody by the Ulster county authorities several days ago when he was discharged from the New York State Institution for Defective Delinquents at Napanoch, was turned over to the Massachusetts authorities Wednesday morning and taken back to Boston, where he is wanted for breaking parole.

Swirliff, who comes from the Isle of Malta, has been in this country several years. He was convicted of robbery in the state of Massachusetts and sentenced to a term in an institution. Later he was paroled and broke his parole and left the state, going to Buffalo, where he got into trouble again. He was sent to Auburn prison and from there transferred to Napanoch when that institution was opened for mental defectives, the supposition being that he was a mental defective. His time expired there several days ago and when he was discharged the Massachusetts authorities notified Sheriff Wells to arrest and hold him for their instructions. He was arrested and held in the county jail until examination papers were sent from Boston. These papers were received by District Attorney Traver and on Wednesday John L. McGann arrived in town and Swirliff was turned over to be taken before a judge and returned to Massachusetts with the officer.

Swirliff is perhaps the first Maltese to be held by local authorities and proved to be a very interesting character.

Kiwi a Wonderful Bird

The kiwi is called the strangest bird known to man. It was recently obtained by the government in exchange for a cage of rare white owls. There is no trace of wings on the kiwi. It is a very meditative creature, standing motionless for hours, apparently with a perpetual frown. It sleeps all day and digs for its food at night, which is buried by its keepers. Furthermore, it has the growl of a dog and does not fly.—Kansas City Times.

$25,000 Fire At Highland

Cancer Cure Institute At Highland Is Destroyed By Fire—Occupants Escape Flames On Ladder—Patients Left Monday.

Dwyer Institute, a large health institute located on the Clintondale road, a short distance from the village of Highland, was destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday. The loss is estimated at $25,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. Three persons in the building were awakened by the smell of smoke and when they attempted to go through the corridor they were forced to seek retreat through the windows.

Shortly after three o'clock news was received in Highland of the fire and the Highland firemen hurried to the scene with the fire apparatus, but when they arrived the fire had gained such headway that they were unable to stop the flames in the main building and devoted their energies to the out buildings. The fire had apparently started on the first floor of the building and had extended to the second floor, when the occupants were awakened.

Samuel A. Dwyer, the owner of the institute, was in New York city at the time of the fire. Mrs. Dwyer was in the building at the time and escaped through a window, climbing down a ladder, which was brought to her by the head farmer at the institute.

The building was owned by Joseph and L. Brown of Milton, and was leased for some time to Dwyer, as a cancer cure institute. Seven patients had been in the place up to Monday, when they left for their homes. It was said that a number were expected to arrive soon. Dr. J. E. Pasternak of New York city was the physician in charge and visited the patients three or four times a week.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Claude Myer, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Myer, formerly of Ulster avenue, Saugerties, and a grandson of Oliver Holden, died at New Paltz on Tuesday, aged 19 years. The deceased had been a sufferer from a form of paralysis. Funeral and interment Friday at Saugerties.

John Brown, a veteran of the Civil War, and a member of Mansfield Post, No. 35, G. A. R., of Brooklyn, died at his home in West Saugerties, Tuesday. He had been a resident of the place the past three years and was very highly respected as a neighbor and citizen. Mr. Brown was a first lieutenant of Co. E, 158th Regiment, New York Volunteers. The body was taken to Cypress Hills Cemetery for burial.

Miss Sarah Hagan of New Paltz, died at St. John's Hospital, Yonkers, on Saturday, September 13, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis some time ago. She was doing nicely when scarlet fever developed. She is survived by her parents and one sister. The funeral was held on Monday, September 15, and was in charge of the Rev. Frank Wilson, with interment in Lloyd Cemetery.

The funeral of Bernard V. Solon was held Wednesday morning from the late residence at Eddyville at 10 o'clock and from the Sacred Heart Church at 10:30 o'clock, where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. William J. Jordan, pastor of the church, the Rev. E. A. Badecker of Tarrytown acting as deacon and the Rev. Joseph Ostermann of this city as subdeacon. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, a silent tribute to the esteem in which the deceased was held by his relatives and friends. The services were largely attended, the church being filled to its capacity by sorrowing relatives and friends. During the offertory Miss Adelaide McNamee sang very feelingly "Pie Jesu," and at its conclusion "One Solemn Thought." As the casket was being borne from the edifice the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee." The bearers were Thomas J. Murray, James O'Connor, Richard Mooney, John Kennedy, Cornelius Ryan and Dennis J. Murphy. The Rev. Fathers Jordan, Badecker and Ostermann accompanied the remains to St. Mary's Cemetery, where the committal services were conducted and the remains interred in the family plot.

WIDESPREAD IS THE BELIEF IN "CHARMS"

Few People Without Faith in Their Favorites.

Men have been known to carry buckeyes or horsechestnuts as charms against rheumatism and other evils, and it is known that a rabbit's foot keeps Dame Fortune at the shoulder of a man. Some men are so particular that they insist that it shall be the right-hand foot of a graveyard rabbit killed at midnight in a certain phase of the moon, but it is admitted that it is well to have any kind of a rabbit's foot in one's pocket. Nobody doubts that a horseshoe nailed with the heels up brings good luck and that a horseshoe is more effective in attracting luck than an automobile tire. In the northeast corner of the United States a bayberry candle "brings luck to the house." There are also lucky pennies and lucky shillings. Our ancestors knew that a twig of mistletoe hung outside the door would keep demons from entering at Yuletide and a twig of mistletoe hung on the chandelier still brings good luck to many girls. Nobody doubts that breaking a looking glass will be followed by seven years of bad luck.

Indians Had Apple Trees of Large Size

Those hardy surveyors, Scull and Lukens, who went up into what is now Pike county, about two centuries ago were amazed.

They found there seven gigantic apple trees. They were remains of an Indian orchard, and the trees were far larger than any then existing in or near Philadelphia.

That was the chief rendezvous of Tom Quick, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. He was a Wandering Jew Indian killer. For the death of a member of his family he vowed in youth that he would kill 100 Indians.

Before his death he admitted, or boasted, that his vow had been made good and he laid away his old rifle and shortly afterward died.

A tourist notes up there a picturesque bit of big business. The D. & H. canal is carried across the Delaware river on a fine stone aqueduct, which if you saw its equal near Rome would cause you to take off your hat to the glories of that ancient empire.

Production Age

A new church in a small town is considerable of an event and the progress of the contractor is closely watched by every member of the community. In our town we ceased talking of the "church building" and referred to it as the "church plant." Some even dropped the "church," so what was more natural to the stranger who heard it thus described to conclude it was a manufacturing plant.

"What is going to be made in the new plant?" he asked the small son of his host.

The little fellow hesitated, looked inquiringly from his father to his mother, but gained no inspiration from either. Finally he took the plunge on his own:

"We're going to make 1924 model Christians."—Houston Post.

The Purist at Large

We direct the attention of our grammar school to the flat statement by the editor of the London Saturday Review that "there are no such words in English as 'reliable' and 'laughable,' and no scrupulous writer would use them or any similar compounds of 'able' with intransitive verbs."

The above dictum was brought out by a letter from a correspondent who said that the late Provost of Trinity college, Dublin, did not like the word "reliable," and one day at lunch observed that since you cannot rely a thing, the adjective should be "rely-on-able."

Airplane Patrol

In order to conserve Ontario's forest wealth and to protect the lumbering and paper industry, in which $75,000,000 is invested, the Ontario government has bought an airplane fleet, consisting of 18 machines, to patrol the timber areas and detect fires in their incipient stages. The planes are also to be used to make a survey of Ontario's forest wealth, with a view to checking up on the timber concessions and seeing that the government is obtaining sufficient return from them, and also with a view to determining the amount of reforestation needed.

Two Fish Stories

A chrouler at Edmonton, Alberta, reports that a trout 42 inches long and weighing 37 pounds has been taken from Lake Minnewanka at Banff. A Brandon (Manitoba) report says that an angler on the Assiniboine river caught a pickerel and a muskallunge on one hook at the same time. He was in the act of hauling out the pickerel when a muskallunge swallowed it, and the angler landed both. The muskallunge was 40 inches long and weighed 17 pounds.

Justice is only a few jumps behind the most clever sinner. There is no rest for the wicked, a guilty conscience is ever on the burning sands.—Exchange.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 25.—Irregular movements in stock prices featured the listed stock market today. Under reduced trading, stocks in some group continued their upward progress while other groups were declining sharply under profit taking and short selling.

The oil stocks were the first to feel the effects of this reactionary trend. Couden sold more than a point lower. Other independents like Sinclair, Phillips, California Petroleum and Marland declined fractionally.

Missouri Pacific Preferred sold in good volume around top prices, but yielded later to profit taking. New Haven, New York Central, Southern, Atchafalpa, Baltimore and Ohio and Southern Railway were also in good form and St. Paul made a slight recovery.

The equipment stocks did not make much response to the reported heavy increase in railroad buying of new cars, locomotives, etc. New York Airbrake was the most active.

Studebaker made another top record today at 41 1/2. Bethlehem, Crucible, Gulf States and Republic yielded easily on light selling pressure.

Hurried covering of cotton shorts sent prices sharply upward in the market in the fourth hour, grain markets were steady, money inclined to stiffen and general commodities unchanged.

Weather Forecast Used to Guide Churchgoers

Washington.—A minister using weather forecasts to fit the attendance to the capacity of his church and the services to the mood of the congregation as affected by the weather, is the latest way in utilizing the government's prognostications that has come to the attention of the weather bureau officials here.

The pastor of a large church in one of the country's large cities, whose edifice is unable to hold all that come in "good church weather," but which is not filled in inclement weather or fine outdoor weather, telephones the forecaster at the local weather bureau office every week for Sunday's weather prospects.

If the forecast indicates weather good enough for church, but not for golf or motoring, publicity through the newspapers is curtailed and to attempt to increase the attendance, as the church will be crowded to capacity without such efforts.

But if stormy or very fine weather is in prospect, special announcements of sermon and attractive musical programs are made in the newspapers and every means is used to arouse interest.

Is Your Blood Hungry for Iron?

Iron is the Red Blood Food That Gives You Strength, Energy and Power—How to Make the Test That Tells.

Actual blood tests show that a tremendous number of people who are weak and ill lack iron in their blood and they are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. Iron deficiency paralyzes health, slows the nervous system, weakens the muscular system and weakens the entire system, pale face, a nervous irritable disposition, lack of strength and endurance and inability to cope with the strong, young folks in the race of life—these are the warning signals that Nature gives you when you are iron deficient. So how long you literally starve for want of iron. If you are not sure of your condition, go to a doctor and have him take your blood and tell you where you stand or else make following test yourself. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nutraton three times a day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and you will have gained. By enriching the blood with creating new red blood cells, Nutraton restores the blood, rebuilds the weak tissues and helps to nullify the effects of age and power into the whole system. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, Nutraton is easily assimilated, does not cause constipation, does not upset the stomach. The manufacturer guarantees successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or the money will be refunded. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Giants Forge Further Ahead

Another Win Today Over Pirates Would Make Giants The Champions—Races In American League Still Unchanged.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 25.—The baseball "it" table, manufactured by figure sharks for the fan who wants to know what will be the standing if so and so happens, will be of small circumstance in the National League controversy by tonight if the New York Giants beat the Pirates again today.

"If" that happens the Giants will be almost a mathematical certainty to be the 1924 National League champions.

Great tribute will be paid to John J. McGraw, as has often been done in past years, in case he drives to his fourth consecutive championship and also great praise will be heaped on his courageous team. Nothing but courage and lots of it could have carried a broken club like the Giants to two straight victories over Pittsburgh and a practical clinch for the National League pennant. Any team that can put a first baseman on second base in place of baseball's ranking second sacker, replace a star at third with a substitute, send a second string first baseman to the field to round out the inner works, places substitutes in the outfield, and then win against what often has been termed the best team in the league, must be bowed to. Their victories have been made possible by their daring and their utter disregard of the prowess of their opponents.

Two more victories for the Giants would make it impossible for them to fare worse than a tie, and, of course, if Brooklyn should drop one more while the Giants were winning two the race would be over. Pittsburgh can take the pennant by winning six straight if the Giants lose three of their four and the Dodgers break even.

Brooklyn does not play today but Giants and Pirates meet for the last game of their series at the Polo Grounds.

In the American League the pace continues unchanged. The Senators lead the second place Yankees by two games, with each facing four more games. Three victories would clinch the pennant for Washington, even though the Yanks finish with four straight wins.

Earl Cooper to Marry, After Romance

MRS. JANE R. BAILEY

During a race in the East some time ago, Earl Cooper, the famous automobile race driver, saw a beautiful red-haired woman in the grandstand as his car flashed past. He could never get her out of his mind. A few days ago his car crashed with another car on the streets of Los Angeles. The other car was driven by Mrs. Jane R. Bailey, of Troy, N. Y. She was the "red-haired woman." She will soon become Cooper's bride.

The varieties of trees, shrubs, plants and vines which discharge rubber sap are numbered in the hundreds. One of the smallest and most common is the pasture milkweed, and the greatest is the Hevea Brasiliensis which sometimes attains a height of 120 feet.—Automobile Digest.

Gethsemane

On the land now known as the Garden of Gethsemane there are eight very old olive trees which tradition says were living in the time of Christ. The actual location of the Garden of "Our Lord's Agony" was lost, and the present site selected as the probable location.

Stiff Matches in Amateur Golf

Third Round Matches Today Will See Passing of at Least One Former Champion—Oulmet-Guilford Match Attracting Attention.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Penna., Sept. 25.—At least one former champion, Francis Oulmet or Jesse Guilford, and possibly the incumbent Max Marston, will pass from further consideration as the result of the third round matches in the National Amateur Golf Championship today.

Oulmet and Guilford, both of Boston, and members of the same organization, the Woodland Golf Club, were coupled in the upper bracket by the draw. This meant that one or the other will no longer be with us after this afternoon.

Marston's role called for the attempted elimination of Dexter Cummings, of Chicago. The champion faced no cinch. Cummings holds the intercollegiate title. He has played spectacular golf, disposing of Karl Mosser, Boston, and W. L. Hope, the Englishman, on successive days.

In one of the remaining two matches of the round before the semi-finals, Bobby Jones, former open champion and a chronic favorite for the amateur title, met Rudy Knepper, Chicago, who eliminated Chick Evans. The other brought together George Von Elm, Los Angeles, and Eddie Driggs, Cherry Valley, fighters, both.

In Knepper, semi-finalist two years ago, Jones faced his first human hurdle of any consequence the start of the present tournament. Rudy is not the golfer he was in 1922 but dangerous enough to start shooting par without warning. Neither player was extended at any time during the first two rounds. Jones winning handsily from W. J. Thompson, Canadian, and D. Clarke Corkran, the medalist. Chick Evans and Elsworth Augustus were similarly quiescent before Knepper.

Guilford, likewise, was troubled not at all by his opponents of the immediate past and faced today's test with Oulmet fresh. Oulmet was another matter. His physique none too robust, at best, Francis was pushed out to his limit to beat Willie Hunter and Eddie Held in successive rounds and the cracking point seemed imminent. The match between the Boston pair promised to be the bell ringer of the day.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

HIGH FALLS

Earl Smith could hit only two home runs for the Pirates, while the Giants were scoring on shorter hits, so New York crept closer to the National League pennant, winning 4 to 2.

The Brooklyn Dodgers held gamely on, driving Grover Alexander from the box in vanquishing the Cubs, 6 to 5.

Hornby blasted another home run as the Cardinals won a 9 to 4 game from the Phillies.

The Reds folded up completely as the Boston Braves turned them back twice, 7 to 6 and 5 to 3.

The Cleveland Indians hit safely nine times but could score no runs, the Yankees again whipping them, 2 to 0.

The charging Senators made a clean sweep of their series with the White Sox, defeating Hollis Thurston, Chicago ace, 6 to 3.

The Athletics scored a 4 to 2 victory over the Browns.
